CLINICAL HISTORY: 25 year old male; lower back - A) Keratoacanthoma

DIAGNOSIS:

A. Lower back:

Squamous cell carcinoma, keratoacanthoma type.

NOTE: Tumor is partially excised.

GROSS DESCRIPTION: Received the following specimen(s) in the Department of Pathology, labeled with the patient's name and hospital #:

A. Lower back

A. The specimen received in formalin consists of a 1.7 x 1.2 x 0.1 cm trapezoidal shave biopsy of skin with a 1.6 x 0.9 x 0.15 cm nodular lesion. Excision margins are inked blue. Also present are multiple nodular masses of friable tan and brown tissue, 0.8 x 0.6 x 0.3 cm in aggregate. The specimen is serially transected and submitted in toto in cassette A1.

MICROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION:

A. The lesion is an infiltrating malignant neoplasm. It is formed of well differentiated keratinizing squamous epithelial cells with atypical nuclear features, eosinophilic glassy cytoplasm, and the overall configuration of a crater filled with keratin.

'I, or my qualified designee, have performed the gross examination and description and I have personally reviewed the gross description and specimen preparations referenced herein, and have personally issued this report.'
